NINE STOLEN MAIL SACKS UNRECOVERED

Looted Postoffice Pouches Are Thrown by Bandits Into a Vacant Lot At Emeryville On Old Race Track

Important Clues That May Aid in Tracing the Robbers Who Held Up Truck Tuesday Night; Plunder Heavy

Recovery of nine of the twelve United States mail pouches taken by three masked highwaymen who Tuesday night at Nineteenth and Adeline streets held up and robbed the mail van driven by Albert Renard on which Miss Lois Willard, 804 Sixteenth street, 17-year-old telephone operator, was riding.

The mail van was stopped by three men who came from the bushes and forced the driver to get out of the vehicle. The robbers then searched the van and found the mail pouches. They then threw the pouches into a vacant lot at Emeryville on Old Race Track.

The robbers then fled in a truck. The police are now searching for the truck. They have found some clues that may aid in tracing the robbers.

$12,000 Bribery Charged to Two Deputy Sheriffs

Bunko Man Declares He Paid Blood Money to Be Allowed to Escape

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
LOS ANGELES, March 3.—In district court today Deputy Sheriff Walter Lips and William J. Anderson were charged with having received a $12,000 bribe from Joe Furey, notorious barker and racketeer, to help him escape after he had arrested him at his home in Glendale last December.

Furey, who was formerly chief of the fire department in Los Angeles, was arrested in the private office of District Attorney Woolwine while the jury was voting on the indictment charging the officers with "bribery and extortion."

Anderson, who has killed several bandits in the performance of his duty and is one of the best known officers of the county, surrendered to Woolwine soon after the news of the grand jury action became public.

Furey made a complete statement to Chief Deputy District Attorney Doran in which he recited the whole story of giving Lips and Anderson $12,000 in cash to permit him to escape after he had been arrested on a charge of having swindled J. F. Norfleet of Palo Alto, Texas, out of $40,000.

The arrested Furey, at his home December 4, Woolwine alleges Lips and Anderson told him that for $20,000 they would allow him to escape. Furey said he paid the officers $12,000 in cash and the other $8,000 in the form of a check.

Woolwine announced that the hotel registration at Long Beach and San Francisco here today were closely watched. He said that the officers were charged with having received the bribe.

KING TAX BILL IS DEFEATED IN ASSEMBLY

Measure to Jump Corporation Levies One-third Is Lost Unless Another Vote Is Secured in Lower House

After Night Session in Which Heated Arguments Occur Poll Is 53 to 27; Pettis At Once Seeks Reconsideration

SACRAMENTO, March 3.—Administration leaders at a conference today agreed not to reconsider the king tax bill tomorrow. They today they will ask permission for reconsideration. As this requires that a majority vote, it is conceded that it will be granted.

The measure, which would increase the tax on corporations, was defeated by a vote of 53 to 27. Pettis at once sought reconsideration.

The vote stood for the bill—Anderson, Bernard, Broughton, Christian, Cleary, Cleveland, Colburn, Cooper, Critchfield, Cummings, Edwards, Feltner, Fowler, Hawes, Heisinger, Hornblower, Hughes, Hume, Johnson, Johnston, Jones (C. L.), Jones, Lewis, Long, Manning, Mathews, McCloskey, McDowell, McKee, Morrison, Parker, Parkinson, Pettis, Powers, Pranger, Roberts, Schmidt, Smith, Spalding, Spence, Stevens, Webster, Wenderson, West, Windrem, T. M. Wright, Henry Wright, Baker, Beal, Benton, Bishop, Broyle, Brooks, Burns, Graves, Gray, Greene, Hart, Heck, Hurley, Loucks, Lyons, McGee, McPherson, Merriam, Mitchell, Morris, Myers, Ream, Warren, Weber and White.

CHARGES AGAINST...
The debate on the bill started at 4 p. m. yesterday and ended at 3 a. m. today.

Religious charges against the opponents of the bill outside of the house were made. Assemblyman Arthur A. Wenderling, newspaperman, argued the case for the bill. He said that the corporations were more to influence editors than readers.

Pettis declared that the state could not do without the money provided for in the tax bill and charged that the king tax bill was a measure to influence editors than readers.

Senator Poindeexter said that the experience of the past four days during which the bill has been debated, he was satisfied that it could be passed by the house.

Davis Is Officially Announced for Cabinet Washington Streets Are Cleared of "Suspects"

A special detail of nearly 100 police was on hand to keep open a lane leading from the trainshed to the presidential room at the station and to open a way for the automobiles of the party on leaving the station.

Washington streets were cleared of "suspects" and the presidential car was driven to the White House.

MONDAY SET FOR ANSWER OF GERMANS

Ultimatum of Allies Give to Teutons 4 Days in Which to Comply With Demands or Invasion Will Result

Motives of Berlin Delegates Bitterly Attacked by Lloyd George, Who Says Counter Proposals Are a Mockery

Compulsory measures to be adopted by the allies in case Germany refuses to meet indemnity demands:

1—Occupy Duisburg, Ruhr port and Unsedorf in the German coal and industrial district in West Prussia.

2—Each of the allies will put a tax on German exports.

3—A line of customs stations will be established by the allies along the Rhine.

By EARLE C. REEVES
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, March 3.—Germany must yield on indemnity by noon next Monday or the allies will move forward from the Rhine and establish a customs barrier along the western German frontier.

This was the momentous ultimatum given today by Premier Lloyd George, acting as the spokesman of the allied powers.

Walter Simons, German foreign minister, speaking for the German delegation, promised that the documents submitted by the allies would be given by Monday noon.

He believed there would be no necessity for such action as the allies contemplated.

Few Changes Are Likely In Legislative Districts

TRIBUNE BUREAU, Sacramento, March 3.—Alameda county legislators are beginning to receive requests concerning the division of assembly and senatorial districts under the new reapportionment act. So far the argument from Berkeley that it be included in a senatorial district by itself, or with as little outside territory as possible under the law, is the one most pressed.

Senator Arthur Breed, whose district would be affected by the change, said today that the proposal meets with his favor.

"I have no objection and will put nothing in the way of the plan," he said.

In Oakland there is an agitation from certain officials who would like to have districts entirely within the city limits and who are seeking to do away with the "stocking" boundaries that extend outside of the municipality. The argument is that nothing like unity of action on purely Oakland matters can be expected from the present arrangement.

As the bill may come up any time, and as no concrete proposals have been offered as yet, it would appear that few changes will be made unless more definite expression is heard at an early date.

Scott Abandons Bill Calling for School Transfer

State Senator Says He Will Not Press Plan to Transfer Medical Unit.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEADER WIRE TO TRIBUNE
SACRAMENTO, March 3.—Senator Scott will not press his bill to transfer the State University Medical School at the Affiliated Colleges, San Francisco, to Berkeley and the San Francisco Normal School in the Affiliated Colleges buildings, he announced today.

Scott's decision came after a hearing before the Senate committee on education, where Dr. David P. Barrows, president of the University of California, opposed the move.

Dr. Barrows said the Affiliated Colleges were donated to the University with the provision that they should be used for medical and dental schools. The University is opposed to establishing a junior college in San Francisco, as proposed in Scott's bill, Dr. Barrows said.

Posing as a prospective customer for a tailored suit, Inspector William Kile today succeeded in obtaining "wet" evidence which caused him to raid a tailor shop operated by Benny Goldberg, 208 Wallworth avenue, which netted the worth of illicit liquor in connection with the tailor shop Goldberg, according to Kile, operated a soft drink establishment. Under a window sill in the wall Kile found the liquor. Goldberg is charged with violating the national prohibition act.

Collection Cost Argument for Oakland Bureau

Thirty Per Cent of Revenue Local Licenses Lost in Expenses.

TRIBUNE BUREAU, Sacramento, March 3.—For the six months period ending February 1, the state motor vehicle department collected from Alameda county $17,562 40 in licenses at a cost of $4543 04, or 30 per cent.

The figures for the state as a whole, at which the 30 per cent cost holds, are: Collected $320,647 02 and expended to collect $97,575 12. Deducting the expenses there remained for apportionment to state and counties $223,071 90, or 31.1-655 85 to each Alameda county's share was $2244 58.

Members of the Senate investigating the budget have announced the intention to investigate the self-supporting commissions and departments and have said that they will call upon the motor vehicle department to explain the 30 per cent cost of collecting the licenses.

DRY ENFORCEMENT ACT IS BACKED BY ADMINISTRATION?

Harris Vote on King Bill Is Cited in Support of His Measure.

TRIBUNE BUREAU, Sacramento, March 3.—With the arrival of former Lieutenant-Governor Wallace and Secretary Briggs of the Anti-Saloon League at the capital, interest in the Harris dry enforcement act has taken a new lease on life. The story has it that the bill will be given support by the administration and that it stands more than even chance for passage.

It is known that during the King tax bill fight in the senate, Senator Harris announced that he was not satisfied with the rates included in the bill and intimated that his position with the affirmative side was in doubt. For one whole day both sides claimed him as their own, and Harris voted for the bill. It is not surprising, then, that the story would have it that the dry bill is to be favored by the King tax bill forces, and the senators and others are wondering if Harris played pretty politics.

Opposition to the Harris act are basing their arguments on the vote in November and are busy at work turning up all the strength in sight. The up, though, is that the bill will carry.

That there is a prospect of a split in the ranks of the Anti-Saloon league and the formation of an independent wing is a statement made today by Franklin Hitchens, one of the dry leaders. Those who are protesting because the league took no active part in the campaign for the Harris bill in November are the ones who would withdraw in consequence of the Anti-Saloon League will not be so prominent in the fight here for the Harris bill, and much of the leadership will be assumed by the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Sarah J. Dorr, president of that organization, will be here Monday.

BERLIN BOURSE REPORTED QUIET

BERLIN, March 3.—Banking circles today gave no indication regarding the further progress of the reparations conference in London, nor was there any apparent uneasiness on the Bourse. In both quarters there was a prevalent feeling that Germany's counter proposals were not fully understood by the entente leaders upon their first presentation by Dr. Simons.

Quotations on the Bourse were remarkably firm in the face of a flood of alarming reports from London and Paris and there was lively speculation in foreign exchange, the demand for American dollars predominating.

GERMANS ASSUME DEFERRED ATTITUDE

BERLIN, March 3.—(By the Associated Press)—The German cabinet went into executive session late last afternoon for the purpose of examining the official private reports transmitted by Dr. Simons the foreign minister, at the conclusion of Tuesday's session of the London conference with the allies.

The leaders of most of the right-wing factions were occupied with party conferences, discussing eventualities from the possible disruption of the London conference. Dr. Goebbels, leader of the German Democrats, said:

"The national sentiment is quite different now from that prevailing in 1919 and threats of reprisals would fail to induce the German people to affix their signature to the intolerable Peace proposals."

$10,000 VERDICT GOES WITH FINE FOR CONTEMPT

Weeping, Wailing and Gnashing of Teeth Feature Damage Suit.

Weeping, wailing and gnashing of teeth featured the argument and decision of the case of Cora Eckert vs. Robinowitz for $10,000 damages, alleged to have been sustained by Mrs. Eckert when the defendant ousted her from property at 609 Thirteenth street.

Robinowitz, who won the decision, lost $5 at the same time when he jumped up in court and in answer to accusations of Attorney Robert Hewitt, shouted:

"I am not a Russian. I am not a Russian. Come up here!" he commanded Judge A. F. St. Sure, sternly. Robinowitz began to weep and tear at his hair.

"I am not a Russian," he moaned. And then he started out of the courtroom. "I am a Rumanian."

Come here," roared the Judge while the bailiff and clerk made to head off the disconsolate litigant. "You're guilty of contempt," was the order. Pay over five dollars to the clerk.

Robinowitz tearfully dug up the five spot and the argument proceeded. The sorrow in the defendant's camp was turned into joy and congratulations when the jury brought in a verdict for Robinowitz.

the police yesterday that the holdup was perpetrated by experienced men and that they had taken every precaution to guard against capture.

After a night of investigation still conducted under a cloak of secrecy, postal operatives, up until the time of the recovery of the mail pouches this morning, reluctantly admitted that they were without a single clue which might aid in running down the highwaymen.

Police Inspectors Robert McSorley, Thomas Wood, George Burbank and Virgil Coley have been detailed by Chief of Police Fenton G. Thompson of the Oakland department to work with the corps of postoffice inspectors, who up until this morning had been unable to locate any clues to the robbery.

It has been agreed that the robbery was performed by men thoroughly familiar with postal methods and shipments. Their first demand of Renard, the truck driver, and Miss Wilbur, his sweetheart, was information as to the number of pouches in the truck, showing their acquaintance with the transportation of registered mail, it is pointed out.

GERMANS ADMIT FRENCH INVASION THREAT SERIOUS

Teuton Statesman Says Harding May Save Nation From Disaster.

By FRANK E. MASON
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

BERLIN, March 2.—The official life of the German cabinet was hanging by a slender thread today as a result of the indemnity developments at London.

"It is impossible to say at present whether Foreign Secretary Simons and the rest of the ministers will resign until the outcome of the indemnity conference is settled, but I am calling an inter-party meeting for either this afternoon or tomorrow for the purpose of taking steps to include both Socialists and Nationalists in a new coalition government," declared former Vice-Chancellor Eugen Schiffer, chairman of the inter-party committee of the Reichstag.

Dr. Schiffer said that plans were under way to "give the government united support in the present crisis."

SCHIFFER STRONG MAN.
Dr. Schiffer is one of the "strong men behind the scenes." It was he who piloted Germany to a diplomatic victory on the extradition question and he was the only minister who remained in Berlin and kept his post during the Kapp uprising.

He is given credit for saving the Ebert government during the crisis of March, 1920.

"The French threats of an invasion of Germany are most serious," continued the minister. "I am convinced that the French are not bluffing. The supreme question now is whether England will subscribe to the French plan for destroying Germany. But there is a way open so long as the indemnity conference continues under way. It is small consolation but if the French march into Germany our destruction means the destruction of the rest of Europe along with us."

Representatives of Holland, Denmark, Switzerland and Sweden have shown no data proving that the economic situation in these countries is serious. French invasion of Germany will mean the ruin of these nations which are dependent upon Germany for their trade.

HARDING HOLDS KEY.
"Unemployment will break down the resistance of those workmen who are not now infected with Bolshevism. I will hold the political parties in line as long as I can against the threat of a renewed reign of starvation."

"President-elect Harding holds the key to the situation in his hands. He could save Europe by a turn of his hand."

Much confusion and conflict of opinion were caused by despatches from London bearing upon Wednesday's developments. There were many rumors afloat. One of them was that the frontiers of Germany were to be sealed if the French army advanced. Neutral and Americans in Berlin sought the advice of American correspondents as to whether it would not be advisable to leave Germany at once.

MISS EDITH KEMP THORNE,
national secretary of the Camp
Fire Girls, who arrived in Oakland today. The camera caught her making the symbolic sign of fire.

"American women never rest," Miss Edith Kemp Thorne, national field secretary of the Camp Fire Girls of America, arriving in Oakland this morning, offered as one of the reasons for the movement which she represents. She has come to the bay cities under the direction of the Oakland and Berkeley recreation departments, the Eastbay Guardians association and sponsored by a section of the Rotary club.

"Health is a fundamental principle of the Camp Fire Girls and rest figures largely in that program," Miss Kemp Thorne declares. "Health cannot be purchased. Therefore we teach our girls to be clean inside and out. To win honors, girls between 9 and 16 years of age must sleep in a room with those over 16 years, full eight hours."

"We stand for exercise with 100 miles hiking a month our standard. We believe in simplicity in dress. We are every day of us. We are a majority of grown-ups even in California, have never been camping," the young woman who knows her state asserts. "They are afraid of what they have never done. Last year 80,000 girls in this country camped in the woods on money which they had earned themselves in groups at a cost of from $5 to $10 a week. In camp all the artificial things of life go by the board. Girls find out things for themselves and not by being talked to."

DESIGNED FOR HEALTH.
"Community fire places as a means of getting the people out of doors and together in simple living is another of our projects," the national leader explains. "The whole Camp Fire Girl movement is designed to give a fine, healthy, efficient young womanhood to this nation. Every girl in every city should be enrolled."

Miss Kemp Thorne addressed the Rotary club at noon today. Later she was a speaker at the Lakeview school, where at 8 o'clock the training course for leaders will be inaugurated in the Y. W. C. A. under the instruction of the visitor. With the exception of Saturday and Sunday, the lectures will be given each evening, including March 8, after which she leaves for Stockton.

The Saturday morning open meeting in the Y. W. C. A. at 10 o'clock and the grand council meeting in the Fremont playground Saturday at 2 p. m. are the interesting events to the general public. More than 300 Camp Fire Girls of the bay cities will participate in the ceremonial.

The following tentative schedule has been arranged for Miss Kemp Thorne's official visit here:

SYKES IS JAILED IN DENVER AFTER EFFORT TO FLEE

"Prophet" to Serve Prison
Term for Draft Obstruction in Berkeley.

DENVER, Colo., March 3.—Joshua (Jehovah) Sykes, self-styled king of heaven and earth, who failed to appear in San Francisco today to begin serving 18 months' sentence for draft obstruction during the war, was arrested last night by the police after an exciting automobile chase. The police charge that Sykes' followers were trying to smuggle him out of town.

The police had invaded the Temple of the Church of the Living God, over which Sykes presides, early last night on a request from San Francisco that he be arrested. Sykes was not there. Later word came that Sykes had entered the temple about 5 o'clock and proceeded to his pulpit in his robes of white and preached a sermon. The police went to the temple just as Sykes was being spirited into an automobile by his followers.

TAKEN AFTER CHASE.
The police followed in another machine and overtook the Sykes car in a residential section of the city. The police cordoned the Sykes car to the curb, forcing the machine to stop and the arrest was made without a struggle.

Sykes returned to Denver yesterday after taking a train for San Francisco Sunday afternoon. A report was current Monday that he had returned, but it could not be confirmed. Several attempts were made during the week to find Sykes, but he kept in hiding, away from his usual haunts.

His capture followed information from San Francisco that his bondsman wished to surrender him.

REFUSED TO SURRENDER.
"The day of judgment is here," Sykes told newspapermen from behind the bars of a cell in the city jail. "My maker told me to come back. If I had surrendered voluntarily to the authorities I would have balked judgment."

Sykes predicted an earthquake probably on March 4, which would have dire consequences. "I'm inside, you're outside," he told his interviewers. "Six months from now things may be reversed. The day of judgment is here. You may be put in here and I'll be on the outside."

Sykes referred to a newspaper clipping announcing the repeal of the wartime laws and declared that this would mean his liberty within a few days.

He admitted that his return to Denver was prompted by a second vision, received when his train reached Cheyenne, and that the vision had compelled him to return to Denver.

60 MILLION IN CHINA STARVING, SAYS MISSIONARY

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 3.—Sixty million people in China are trying to cling to life by subsisting on dried leaves, roots, sawdust and rubbish from the streets, according to Rev. George E. Simmons, treasurer of the American Missionary Society in Honan, who has just arrived here from the Orient. He said today, in the fainting glances the country is short of every vestige of vegetation and even the carion birds have disappeared. Millions more will starve to death unless they get food until the crops are harvested in May.

MEXICO CITY, March 3.—The $2 passport fee for tourists to visit Tijuana is to be abolished and visits of Americans to that resort encouraged by Epigmenio Ibarra, recently appointed governor of Lower California. In an interview today he said:

"Because of the closing of the gambling houses, the bad cotton situation and the exorbitant of the passport fee for tourists, the treasury of Lower California is in a low state. Steps must be taken to rectify this condition. I believe in permitting Americans and others to visit Tijuana. Mexico has other points in the northern district of Lower California, without having to pay the fee."

HOOVER PRAISES JEWISH HELP IN EUROPE RELIEF

NEW YORK, March 3.—Herbert Hoover, as chairman of the European relief council, today sent a letter in commendation of the American Jewish relief committee, in the effort to save the lives of 5,000,000 starving European children. The letter reads: "I feel sure in your capacity as chairman of the American Jewish relief committee you will be glad to know the very fine response the Jewish people of the country have made to the appeal for the European children and the fine cooperation they have given everywhere in the organization's appeal for relief. It is the result of the successful and will result in the ability of the American relief administration to carry on relief for even larger numbers of Jewish children and their parents. It is a help and will also, I believe, furnish substantial assistance to the Jewish joint distribution committee in care of children from the road, clothing and medical points of view."

BRITISH BANKERS FAVOR LEAGUE

By EARL C. REEVES
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, March 3.—Discarded by America's blockade of its operation by France, and received at best tepidly by the officials quarters at least of Europe, is the League of Nations, the financial world's only hope.

The chairman of Lloyd's bank and the London City and Westminster and City of London banks, two of the four biggest financial institutions of the British empire, have "declared for the league" in a single week. These banks, Sir Richard Cassel-Smith of Lloyd's, and Dr. Walter Leaf, are figuratively—almost literally—the spokesmen of billions of dollars of the empire's wealth.

Lloyd's chairman sees great promise, he told his stockholders' meeting, in the inauguration of the league and in the financial project initiated at the Brussels financial conference of the league.

"I cannot see no radical remedy for the present discontent except disarmament, and it is in the League of Nations that our best hope lies," was the declaration of Dr. Leaf.

Dr. Leaf sees in the narrow nationalistic practice of erecting tariff barriers and prohibitions of imports between nations a move leading to disaster.

The Daily News declares that the practical success of business men of England in the League of Nations exceeds that of the politicians.

Life in Ireland Is One Round of Thrills

DUBLIN, Mar. 3.—Many of the auxiliary cadets of the Royal Irish Constabulary are finding life in Ireland altogether too strenuous and exciting, filled as their existence is with possibilities of ambush and sudden death. A letter written by one of the cadets to his mother in Scotland and captured by the Sinn Feiners in a raid on the mails emphasizes this fact.

"It is the hardest life I ever struck," the cadet wrote. "We would not be overpaid at all a day."

The writer went on to say that he had made his will and then told his mother of the compensation paid members of the auxiliary forces for death or injury.

"A man's fresh wound is paid £500," he stated, "and so on up to £2500 to a man's widow."

As a matter of fact, recent awards to the relatives of members of the Royal Irish Constabulary killed on duty have been as high as £10,000 to £20,000.

English Thieves Get Millions Yearly

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Light-fingered gentry in England get away with millions of dollars' worth of freight in transit every year, Consul General Skinner has reported, on the strength of London Chamber of Commerce figures. British commercial custom, Skinner said, were "much exercised" over it and planning steps to deal with the pilferers.

Lloyd's, he said, had passed claims of this kind aggregating nearly $3,000,000 in fifty-nine weeks, an average of more than $47,000 a week, and not including insurance company losses, uninsured property or the enormous claims paid by shipowners. One shipping company alone met claims at the rate of $250,000 a year, he added.

Million Is Lost by Fire in Glass Plant

BARNESVILLE, Ohio, March 3.—Fire originating at the tanks of the Kerns & Gorsch glass factory here early today raged unabated for over an hour, before an effective attempt could be made to check the spread of the flames. The fire resulted in the destruction of the plant, entailing a loss close to a million dollars.

WOMAN REGRETS KILLING ONLY MAN SHE EVER LOVED

Slayer of Herbert Ziegler Tells How She Took To Night Life.

By CARL VICTOR LITTLE
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, March 3.—Mrs. Isabella Cora Orthwein sat in her cell today regretting the day she left her home town. She longed for the simple virtues.

Mrs. Orthwein was booked on the charge of murder. She shot and killed Herbert Ziegler, the only man, she says, she loved in her luxurious apartment in the "Gold Coast" after a wild night of revelry.

"Oh, if I could only blot out the last three years of my life and start anew," she sobbed.

"I was happy then living in the humble little home of my parents in Columbus, O., where I was born. If I had it to do over, I wouldn't trade that simple little home for the most wonderful golden palace in the world."

"In the happy days of my youth I was content. I knew nothing of gay apartment parties, convivial grill room celebrations and the other things that go with the hectic night life. I had never tasted liquor then I had never loved."

"If I had stayed back in Columbus I would still be happy. I am sure I would probably have married and had several children. I would have the respect of the community and be loved by my neighbors."

"Now I am charged with murder," Mrs. Orthwein said a foolish impulse to see a large city eventually led her to Chicago.

She told of leaving Columbus for the first time when she was 16 years old. She went to Pittsburgh and in a flirtation met a ball player whom she married.

"It was while jumping around from big city to big city that I acquired a taste for night life," she said. "I found comforts and everything money could buy. How foolish I was!"

She was divorced from the ball player and then married Ralph Orthwein, St. Louis, from whom she also was divorced.

"He had a lot of money and an ambition to spend it all on liquor," she said.

"It was too late to go back to the simple life after that."

"I wandered from city to city seeking excitement. In New York I arranged a marriage for convenience. Then I thought fate had given me happiness. I met Herbert Ziegler, the only man I ever loved—in Chicago. I broke off the engagement with the New York man and married him."

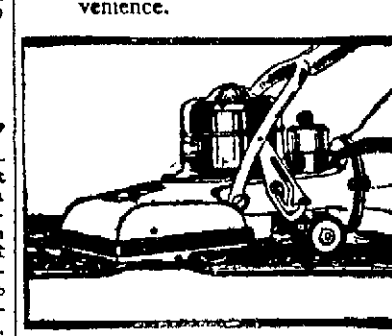

"But I loved Ziegler too well, so well that I killed him when he came abusive. He was the only man I ever loved, is dead by my own hands."

FAMILY CLAIMS STRANGER WHOM OFFICER SLEW

CHICAGO, March 3.—Convinced that "the poor boob"—the ragged stranger for whose death Lieutenant Cary O. Wanderer, convicted wife slayer, now is on trial—is Joseph Ahrens, his stepson, Philip Lips, foreman in a leather factory, today said that he would claim the body for burial.

Mr. Lips, his wife and daughter all have identified the body which since last July has been held in the morgue here. Ahrens disappeared from his home here two years ago. Today's identification of the ragged stranger is regarded as positive and final by the police despite nearly a dozen previous "identifications."

Examination of jurymen continued today in Wanderer's trial. Ahrens employed by the state are watching him constantly in an effort to refute the expected contention of the defense that the former army officer is insane.

Pastor Sends Son To Dancing School

CHICAGO, March 3.—Should a pastor's son attend dancing school? This question is seriously agitating the members of the Berwyn Baptist church, where the Rev. H. F. Waring is sending his 13-year-old son, Henry, to a dancing school where he is learning the tiddle, cat step and other late ones. Henry says he likes it.

But some members of the congregation, it is reported, do not. A minister's son should be kept from earthly things, they declare.

Other members, however, friends of Pastor Waring, ask why shouldn't Henry be allowed to dance and admit dancing themselves.

POLES, GERMANS CEASE FIGHT TO HONOR U. S. MAN

American Relief Worker Wins Admiration of Warring Silesia Factions.

KATTOWITZ, Upper Silesia, Mar. 3.—Captain James A. Stadler of Joplin, Missouri, in the employ of the American relief administration here, is the only man in this strife-torn country who has received a token of joint approval of the German and Polish residents.

After 18 months of hard work and adventuring, in which he has been the common target for the machine-gun fire of Poles and Germans faced mobs, fed the hungry, administered to the dying, saved prisoners slated for execution, and acted as the arbiter of revolution and strikes, he is preparing to go home to show the folks a big silver cup which his friends presented him when they learned he was about to leave.

There was some rivalry about the cup for the Poles and Germans each wanted to give it, and they only agreed upon a common course for the first time in 800 years, some of them asserted. They all chipped in equal amounts, bought the cup, had it beautifully worked and engraved and presented it with much formality and many nice words in two languages.

As representative of an American organization, Captain Stadler's position has demanded the most careful observance of every rule of neutrality, exercise of considerable ingenuity and, now and then, an extraordinary degree of fortitude. He established himself with Poles and Germans alike during the uprising last August. He had been to the Polish prison camp at Cracow to ask for the release of nearly 200 Germans who had been spirited over the border. On his return trip he got between the Polish and German lines and machine guns began to volley at him. He ran to a ditch and crawling along this reached the German side where he was immediately made prisoner, but later was released. He thinks his footwork saved his life that day.

"LOVE" INITIALS CARVED UPON WOMAN'S CHEST

PARIS 111, March 3.—Charged with carving his initials on the chest of Mrs. Harry Rogers, 19 years old, Glenn Forsman, 23, is held in jail here today on a charge of mayhem. Mrs. Rogers related that Forsman locked her in a room on his farm six miles west of Paris, and did the carving as a test of love.

The jail is being closely guarded as a result of threats against Forsman.

Mrs. Rogers is the wife of a tenant on Forsman's farm. She said she was given an alternative of the carving knife or the branding iron. The initial "G" was carved one day and the initial "F" the next. Both were deeply cut and more than two inches high. The carving occurred six weeks ago.

SICK WOMEN AIDED.

There were a number of women in the camp at Cracow and conditions were very bad. Some of the women were confined in hospital huts with the men. They were only blanketed and the men were clad in gunnysacks one sack to each man.

When the captain secured permission to return these prisoners he discovered in the camp nearly 100 Germans who had been in Russian prisons in Siberia. He was given authority to take them along and any other Germans he found. He returned with 500.

At the border a mob of Polish soldiers and civilians threatened the prisoners, but the captain was flying an American flag from every car of the train and with a revolver in one hand and an American flag in the other he forced the mob to retreat beyond hand grenade range.

The Germans who had been in Siberia fell down and kissed the ground and wept when they were once again on German soil.

Captain Stadler intervened with German authorities a number of times in August to save Polish prisoners. None of them were shot. The captain is the only American in Kattowitz.

FOREIGN TRADE GAINS.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Our foreign trade, both inward and outward, has continued during the last year at gigantic figures, the total of our imports and exports of merchandise amounting to $13,507,000,000. This is an increase of 11 exports of $207,574,010 and in imports of $1,374,655,068, resulting in a net credit balance in our favor for the year of $2,943,000,000, as compared with an excess of exports over imports of the previous year of $4,016,061,058.

LOVE LETTERS IN SLEUTH'S CLEW TO MERCHANT FRAUD

Girl Exposes Father's Hiding
Place When She Writes
Sweetheart.

(Just as truth is stronger than fiction, so the reader will find in the newspaper columns more fascinating romance and mystery than is contained in the magazine or the novel. As proof, THE TRIBUNE has selected from its news files one hundred mystery stories that have attracted the attention of readers during the past years. Here is another of them.)

"HERE'S the note, Mr. West. It came yesterday afternoon in a plain envelope, postmarked Ashhurst, Alabama, and you'll see, there's nothing about it that can give the slightest clue to the writer."

The man sitting across the desk from C. D. West, head of the Department of Investigation of the National Association of Credit Men, and one of the shrewdest commercial detectives in the United States, picked up a scrap of paper as he spoke, and handed it over to West for examination.

"You have recently sent me a letter," said West, "to the effect that you were a 'chance' to me. It would pay you to investigate. Signed—Your friend—Miss."

"Who's Crawford?" he asked, "and doesn't there appear to be anything out of the ordinary about his account?"

"Yes and no," was the answer to the second question. "Crawford's a customer of ours in Alabama who has been buying a fair amount of goods for the past year or more. He's got a pretty good-sized account with us at the present moment, but I wouldn't have given it a thought if it hadn't been for the letter. People in that section of the country are pretty slow pay, you know."

"ALL SLOW TO PAY?"

"They have to wait until the cotton-growers get their money and pay their bills before they can pay ours," Crawford explained. "But no more behind than a number of others. This letter, the third we've received, seems to call for an investigation, however."

"The third?" echoed West. "What happened to the other two?"

"I didn't pay much attention to them," admitted the head of the New York house, who had called on the commercial detective for aid. "I took it for granted that they were spite-work and threw them in the waste-basket. But they were all about the same as this."

"Every one of them?"

"And all signed 'Bill'!"

The man on the other side of the desk nodded.

"It happened that a few days later a traveling salesman by the name of Morgan dropped off the train at the little town of Ashhurst, and after registering at what passed for a hotel, informed the proprietor of the reason for his mission—the introduction of a new line of knit goods."

"Rockon you won't find much trade down this way," was the comment of hotel owner. "Only a couple of stores in town now, since Crawford's failed. Dorsey got a right smart line of goods, and so's Miller; but they're all the same as the town seems to be just naturally dyin'."

The salesman's face did not change by as much as the quiver of an eyelash when he heard the news of the Crawford failure, but an hour or so later he made an excuse to drop into the Miller store, and, having requested a private interview with the proprietor, laid a letter face upward before him.

"I wish you'd tell me everything you had in mind when you wrote that," the salesman said quietly. "Miller acted as though he received an electric shock."

"DON'T SHOW IT HERE!"

"Where'd you get that?" he stammered. "I never saw it before! My God! don't show around here! West smiled and, producing identification papers, explained the reason for his mission.

"Now tell me all about it," he added. "And all about Crawford's failure, too."

"All right, if you'll give me your word to keep silent as to the source of your information," agreed the other. "If Crawford's friends knew that I'd written North, my life wouldn't be worth that," and he snapped his fingers expressively.

"I don't know where Crawford's gone," he continued. "And it's a safe bet he'll be low for a while and then probably try to work the game again. It's the old one of getting goods on credit, and then 'falling' when the bills get too heavy to meet. He was selling stuff so low that Dorsey and I couldn't begin to compete with him. Drivin' us out of business at the same time he was makin' his clean-up. That's the reason I dropped a hint to New York about it."

HUSBAND, WIFE MAY FILE ON GROSS INCOME

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Under an opinion by Attorney-General Palmer, made public today by the Department of Justice, husband and wife living in any of the six states having "community property" laws may, in rendering separate income tax returns, report as gross income, one-half of the income derived from the community property.

Division of community property for income tax purposes is permissible, the attorney-general said, in Washington, Arizona, Idaho, New Mexico, Louisiana and Nevada.

Internal revenue bureau officials said the practical effect of the attorney-general's report would lessen considerably the amount of surtaxes paid on income from community property, and to cause the return of surtaxes on such income which had been erroneously collected in past years.

CODE OF ETHICS TOPIC OF TALK

At one of the most largely attended luncheons given by the Progressive Business club so far this year, members of that club heard a discussion by the Rev. Edgar E. Gee on the third principle of the club's code of ethics and on a program by Mrs. Grace de la Paige, Miss Eva Garcia and Arthur Garcia at the Hotel Oakland yesterday.

The third principle of the club's code, which was discussed by Father Gee is as follows:

"To render unselfish service beyond the amount of debt or obligation."

The minister declared that too rarely is service rendered in a truly unselfish manner and recalled that even Christ's disciples on one occasion hesitated to perform a deed of service asking, "What do we get?" This spirit was derided by Father Gee.

A set of sink faucets donated to the club by the Crane company was auctioned to the highest bidder for the benefit of the club's charity box and brought $10 from Harry Schroeder.

was searching. Crawford, having altered his name to White, had started up in business again with the wreck in Ashhurst, and it appeared to be merely a matter of taking him into custody at leisure.

GIRL SAVES HIM.

West, however, made the error of overlooking the feminine element of the equation. When he approached Crawford in his store and accused him of fraud, the former Ashhurst merchant made no attempt to deny the charge. Instead, he dropped his hands, apparently in token of disgust. An instant later he had whipped a gun from beneath the counter and was just swinging it into position when a heavy glass thrown from the other side of the store, struck his arm and deflected his aim.

"Don't, Pappy!" came the cry from behind West. "Don't add murder to this!" And West, half turning, saw that it was the girl, Billie, who had saved him.

"Thank you, Miss Crawford," he said with a smile. "I'll see that your father gets the benefit of this. This is his first offense, I believe, so we'll probably be able to get him off with a light sentence, just out of gratitude to you."

"And," he added to himself, "because it was you who gave me the clue to the whole affair—the letter to your sweetheart in Ashhurst." Copyright, 1921.

SOCIAL SERVICE WORK EXPLAINED TO LIONS CLUB

Community Chest Director
Explains Merits of His Organization.

Explaining social service work and pointing out the advantages of carrying it out on an organized scale, Harvey K. Leeborn, director of community chest work here, addressed more than 200 members and guests of the Oakland Lions club at the club's welfare organization, on Saturday afternoon.

Leeborn explained social work and social betterment and pointed out the advantages that would result were they conducted jointly instead of separately.

"This," Leeborn declared, "would do away with competition which has been proven to be very unsatisfactory and would result in more funds received by the various welfare bodies. The business man is interested in social work being conducted on an economical and successful basis. Because he is a business man, and necessarily has to run his own business on such a basis, he wants to see it carried out in other things as well. He has no time or sympathy for something that is run unsuccessfully and in a lax and negligent manner."

Explaining the proposed community chest movement, the speaker declared it was the association's aim to conduct the business of securing subscriptions for all organizations under one main branch. This branch would attend to all campaign work and publicity and would receive the funds, which would be distributed to the individual organizations after they had sent in a budget declaring their needs. He quoted figures and statistics to show how successfully the movement had been conducted in other cities.

NEW METHOD NEEDED

He said that some new method was needed to get at the men who did not contribute for social welfare work, and whom he termed as "slackers" and advocated a volunteer staff made up of business men to make a thorough house to house canvass to secure funds for the community chest.

While the Lions club did not endorse the movement at their yesterday's meeting, it is being investigated by officials and a special committee, who will report their findings to the organization. If their report is favorable, heads of the club said, the movement would be endorsed.

Waiter Voag Heir to Large Estate

Julius Voag, who has been missing from his home in Los Angeles for 12 years, is being sought by the police here today as heir to a large estate. The search is being made following the receipt by officers here of a letter from the man's brother, which states that Voag's father has died and his presence is necessary to settle the estate, left through the death of his parents.

Voag, who, it is believed, is unaware of his parents' death, is described as being about 32 years old, light complexioned and weighing 145 pounds. He is a waiter.

Liquors Worth $10,000 Are Left to Y. M. C. A.

(By International News Service)

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., March 3.—Fear that the Volstead act may result in the loss of several thousand dollars' worth of local welfare organizations was expressed here by the administrator of the estate of the late Charles B. Ferrin, president of a large printing and stationery establishment.

The Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association and the Salvation Army are joint owners of $10,000 worth of bottled in bond whiskey, gin, wines, cordials and champagne, and they would like to have Mr. Ferrin or some of his "expert" assistants disclose just how they can raise the coin without violating the law.

WANT MONEY, NOT BOOZE

The organizations do not care for the booze, they say, but could very handsly use the $10,000 or more that it represents in charitable work, and the question of getting the money in not only agitating the three organizations, but many Colorado Springs citizens as well. Scores of wealthy folks in "Little Lunnion" are prepared to buy the pre-war assortment of liquors.

Shipping Board IS GIVEN CLEAN BILL IN REPORT

House Committee Finds No
Evidence of Fraud; Schwab
Is Exonerated.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Administration of the government's merchant fleet by one executive, instead of by a seven-member board, is recommended by the Walsh committee, which reported to the House the result of its eighteen month's investigation of the operations of the Shipping Board.

The report was unanimous. The report reviewed the shipbuilding activities of the government with the conclusion that "considering the program as a whole, the accomplishments, in the number of ships constructed, the tonnage secured and the time within which ships were completed, constitute the most remarkable achievement in shipbuilding that the world has ever seen."

NO FRAUD EVIDENCE

The committee declared it had found no evidence to prove dishonest or fraudulent motives actuated any member of the Shipping Board or any of the trustees of the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

The report continued:

"There has been waste and inefficiency and lack of co-ordination in the tremendous operations of this agency. The reason or justification given for this is the stress under the war emergency."

"It is apparent, however, from the testimony that in the desire to speed up and accomplish results without counting costs, mistakes of judgment, lack of supervision and a failure to give careful consideration resulted in delays."

SCHWAB EXONERATED

The report mentioned charges made that an effort had been made to collect $250,000 from the government for the personal expenses of Charles M. Schwab while director of the Emergency Fleet Corporation's operations, and that R. W. Bolling, brother-in-law of President Wilson, had been irregular in his conduct as treasurer of the Shipping Board.

Both had previously been exonerated by the committee, which, however, took occasion to reiterate that the charge involving Schwab "has not been proven and is not true," and that Bolling had not been guilty of any wrongdoing.

CITIES TO JOIN TO AID NAVY BASE

Jointure with the San Francisco chamber in a cooperative campaign to arouse Pacific Coast cities to opposition to the naval disarmament, and to the Borch filibuster against the naval bill in the Senate, has been determined on by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.
At a meeting in San Francisco attended by Joseph H. King, president of the Oakland chamber, Dr. George C. Pardee, O. H. Fischer, J. R. Knowland of Oakland and directors of the San Francisco chamber, it was determined that immediate and active joint operations were necessary.
King reported hostile feeling in Seattle against the planned Alameda development based on the theory that the Bremerton development would be related. There is not only room but need for bases at Bremerton, Alameda and San Diego, it was declared.
The northwestern attitude was labeled "unwarranted" and decision reached that all possible efforts must be brought to bear in Washington to show the needs of Pacific Coast defense.

Yesterday Mark received a telegram saying his wife had died on the voyage and that the body had been put ashore at Halifax. He at once began telegraphing to locate his children and sister-in-law, but no reply to his messages was received.
The Saxonia was due at New York last Monday.

MOTORCYCLE OF
U. C. SPEEDER IS PUT UNDER LOCK

Judge Harry W. Puleiter today denied to Stanford Raymond, college student, the pleasure of operating a motor vehicle for a period of time. Raymond was accused of driving a motorcycle through the campus at a speed of 35 miles an hour. The court ordered that the machine be locked in the stable for 60 days, and Raymond went out sorrowing.
Judge Puleiter, several months ago inaugurated the practice of taking away the automobiles or motorcycles from speeders, instead of fining them or sending them to jail, declaring this to be the most effective method of curbing the speed mania. His plan was criticized as having no basis in law, which he admitted, but said he merely exercised his privilege of tendering the culprit the option of locking up the car or being locked up himself.

Solon Replies to Attack Made by Currency Chief

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, March 3.—Chairman McLean of the Senate banking committee struck back today at John Skelton Williams, retiring controller of the currency, who in his letter of resignation to President Wilson made public last night, charged that the senator had prevented his confirmation by the Senate.
"Mr. Williams had every opportunity to disprove the charges urged against his confirmation," Senator McLean said in a formal statement. "The committee voted against reporting his nomination back to the Senate."
"It is now Mr. Williams' privilege to abuse the court; and that court is composed of Senators, it is to be expected that he will have the cordial co-operation of the chief executive."
"Outside of Mr. Williams' reprehensible conduct in office, it is to be borne in mind that there was an election last November and his letter to the president would indicate that he is a very poor loser."

ARMISTICE DAY
FIGHT HISTORY
STRICKEN OUT

WASHINGTON, March 3.—All references to activities of the American armies in the field in France on Armistice Day, November 11, 1918, were stricken today from the Johnson sub-committee report by the Graham committee of the House which investigated war expenditures by the War Department.
The Johnson committee investigated expenditures by the army in foreign countries and a portion of its report, filed two days ago, dealt with the fighting by the American armies on Armistice Day and criticized army commanders for permitting the fighting to continue after the armistice hour, resulting in unnecessary loss of life.
The committee decided this feature covered the ground beyond the jurisdiction of the committee as provided in the legislation creating it.
Col. J. H. Wallace, of Alabama, is the only fish and game commissioner in the United States elected by the people.

'Chins' Self After Hunger Strike of
'39 Days in L. A.

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—(By United Press.) To prove that 39 foodless days have not sapped his vitality, Health Enmark, hunger striking chiropractor, today performed for a visiting reporter a stunt that would have the strength of a bull. Enmark leaped from the floor of his cell in the county jail, grasped a parallel bar overhead and "chinned" it.
"See," he said triumphantly as he lowered himself, "I'm not all in yet. My wife says I'm getting thin and worn looking, but even though I'm growing more like a soup bone in appearance every day, I still am a strong man."
Enmark is still resolved to fast the full 90 days to which he was sentenced for violating state medical laws. By sleeping plenty and by breathing exercises, he says, he will be able to retain his stamina and, at the termination of his sentence, walk from the jail with "the firm step of youth."

WOMAN, MAN
AUTO VANISH;
COP PUZZLED

While Patrolman Thomas Palmer was patrolling his beat last night, he observed an automobile standing at Pothill boulevard and Thirty-fifth avenue. He approached the car and as he came near, a man leaped out of the front seat and ran. Palmer gave chase, but the man outdistanced him. As he passed the automobile he noticed a woman sitting in the car.
As Palmer was returning to the automobile to question the woman, he saw the car step from the curb and disappear into a vacant lot. He ran after her but she also was successful in eluding him. He returned then to get the number of the car and to behold, the car was gone.
An automobile that answered to the description of the spooky car later was located standing in front of apartments on Pothill boulevard.

Another appointment to the post will be made today, it was stated.

SHERIFF CLINE
OF LOS ANGELES
LOSES HIS JOB

Charges of Dishonesty Proved and His Removal Is Ordered.

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—The Los Angeles county board of supervisors was expected today to name a successor to Sheriff John C. Cline, by a decision of Judge Charles Monroe of the superior court, that Cline had been guilty of malfeasance in office.
The proceedings against Sheriff Cline were begun about a year ago by Jonathan S. Dodge, chairman of the county board of supervisors. Twenty-one counts were contained in the complaint, most of them relating to the sheriff's handling of fees for transportation and maintenance of prisoners.
Judge Monroe held that eight of the counts were proved.
Paul Vallee, deputy county counsel, who conducted the proceedings for Dodge, said tonight the sheriff's term would end as soon as a formal removal order was signed by the judge and entered in the court minutes. The board of supervisors, he said, would then name a successor. The sheriff contested the proceedings on the ground that his handling of the fees was authorized by state laws superseding provisions of the county charter he was alleged to have violated. He said tonight he had not decided whether he would take any steps to contest the removal.
"In any event I shall be a candidate for sheriff at the next election," he said.
Cline was sheriff of the county from 1917 to 1919 and from 1919 to the present time.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good. Four 2½ ounce of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup. Instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick relief. Usually stops the cough that lingers the throat and all passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract famous for healing the membranes. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex with directions how to use it." Nothing else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Ebell Refuses To Join With County Group

By EDNA B. KINARD

Ebell has definitely decided not to affiliate with the Alameda County Federation of Women's Clubs at the present time.

The club did not see how any particular good might come to them in affiliation at the present time. Mrs. William Nat Friend spoke for the members yesterday. Mrs. Friend presided over the business meeting at which the decision was reached in the absence of Mrs. Frederick Jewell Laird, who is ill in a hospital.

"Ebell is a member of the district and state federation," Mrs. Friend explained. "We were not fully convinced that a county federation might function. We will follow a plan of 'watchful waiting'."

The Oakland club, Rockridge Woman's, Lakeview, Fruitvale Woman's, are among the local bodies which have affiliated with the county federation. In Berkeley the Twentieth Century and the College Women's clubs are members. Alameda contributes the Adolphian and the Research clubs. The eastern end of the county is represented in Alta, Mira, Hill and Valleys; Country Club of Washington Township and several other important groups.

County federation has been given the stamp of approval by the California Federation of Women's Clubs through its convention. Its executive board and its president, Mrs. Aaron Schloss, Mrs. Claude Leech, president of Alameda district, C. F. W. C., have actively sponsored the project. Mrs. L. R. Rosenberg of Hayward is the Alameda county federation president.

NEWS EVENTS in GREAT EAST BAY CITIES

NEW ZONING LAW IS EXPLAINED BY MAYOR BARTLETT

Councilman's Statements Are Challenged by Berkeley Executive.

BERKELEY, March 3.—Challenging statements made by Councilman Carl Bartlett that an amendment to the zoning law adopted by the city council would deprive Berkeley residents of their "right" to improve their homes, Mayor Louis Bartlett has issued a statement explaining the purpose of the legislation. Following is the mayor's statement:

"The council adopted an amendment to the original zoning law in order, in the present use of his property, to have the city plan before the council and specially ask for that protection and whose situation might have been overlooked in the drafting of the ordinance. Councilman Bartlett is mistaken both as to the law and to the facts in his statement of yesterday.

ZONE LAW EXPLAINED.

The zone law amended is the one under which a single-family residence, two-family residence, boarding house, or apartment house district. It is adopted on a petition which is referred to the city planning commission.

The planning commission makes a survey and makes its recommendations. It should carefully except all existing uses that would be prohibited and put those buildings in the appropriate classification so as to make them entirely legal.

"But suppose, for instance, that in going over the ground with a view to recommending the classification of an area into a single family residential zone that a building used as a boarding house is overlooked because there is nothing to distinguish it, then upon the passage of the ordinance that boarding house would be illegal and a neighbor might throw the matter into the courts.

AMENDMENT'S PURPOSE.

It is to obviate this situation and to permit the boarding house to continue without molestation that this amendment is designed and it accomplishes the purpose. When the exception is brought to the attention of the council, it can then put it in the appropriate zone just as it would have done in the first place, but the exact facts before it. In other words, this ordinance is designed to prevent any possible injustice and to make the law work.

Berkeley Officials See Garbage Dump

MAYOR LOUIS BARTLETT and the Berkeley City Council were guests today of Commissioner W. H. Edwards at the Oakland garbage dump.

The affair began with a lunch, after which the guests were taken to the dump in automobiles.

The visit was the result of queries from Berkeley officials who wished to know what Oakland was doing on garbage disposal. The Oakland dump, according to Edwards, is a model of its kind and the inspection was welcomed.

"It has been proven that a dump can be kept clean and odorless," says Edwards. "The garbage is kept covered and all burnable substances are burned every week. We are proud of our dump."

Thrift To Count in Credits At School

ALAMEDA, March 3.—A thrift campaign in the Alameda high school has been launched with the announcement that one-fourth unit credit will be allowed each student who becomes a regular depositor in the high school bank, and who keeps a regular account of his or her account, which is to be submitted at the end of the term. A money prize will be offered for the best and next best savings account.

The high school bank will accept deposits weekly from one cent to any amount the student wishes to deposit, which will draw a 4 per cent interest. In order to secure the unit credit the student must prepare a statement of the deposits entered each week and show the interest due thereon.

Squeaking Windmill Disturbed His Sleep

ALAMEDA, March 3.—A squeaking windmill on the property of Charles Lewis, 1437 Benton street, interfered so much with the slumbers of W. A. Henderson, 1422 Benton street, that he went to the police about it. Police Officer Lewis was instructed to call upon Lewis. After the interview Lewis climbed the tower and tied down the whirling wings of the windmill.

NEW ROUTE FOR HIGHWAY OFFERED BY CROCKETT MAN

Sliding Hill Endangers Whole Contra Costa Waterfront Traffic System.

CROCKETT, March 3.—Solution of the problem confronting highway engineers in maintaining an open road around Hannan Hill, which is sliding so rapidly as to threaten shutting off of traffic between Oakland and eastern Contra Costa, appeared nearer today following a mass meeting of 500 citizens here Tuesday night with officials of the highway commission, county officers and heads of industrial firms.

Thomas H. Hanna, heavy land owner of the district, donated a new right-of-way to the state and an effort is to be made to get the Great Western Power Company also to donate a right-of-way through its property. If the permit is given by the power firm the highway will be 100 feet south of the present route. Rerouting the road, however, it is said, will require a cut of forty feet and 400 feet long at a cost of $30,000.

Slides for the past five years have been gradually wearing the highway down until now the original road is entirely gone and only by maintaining workmen constantly has the commission been able to provide for traffic. The road is now only barely wide enough to allow for passage of one machine.

The sliding hill has menaced the safety of the huge tower of the Great Western Power Company, located on the crest of the hill, and which carries power lines into Solano county. The slide has also been raising the Southern Pacific tracks, and at the rate of four inches a day and has necessitated maintenance of wrecking crews at the scene for the past five weeks.

Hanna's offer of a right-of-way made contingent on construction of a permanent roadway within four months. Committees were named by the assembly to meet with officials of the power company in an effort to get a right-of-way through its property, another was named to wait upon Governor Stephens and the highway commission in an effort to have the work rushed and third committee was named to meet with the board of supervisors. An effort today was being made to secure Hanna also to grant to the state a permanent detour through his property.

Richmond's New Warehouse Cost Is Increased

Revised Plans for Safety to Add $15,000 to Former Estimate.

RICHMOND, March 3.—Fifteen thousand dollars will be added to the cost of the foundation of the new municipal warehouse, through changes suggested by Francis B. Smith, San Francisco, building expert, to whom the plans were submitted for approval before the City Council proceeded with the construction of the building. Smith informed the council last night that the addition of a third more piles would be necessary, if the building was to safely carry the load for which it is intended. This was the only major change he made in the plans as drawn by City Engineer H. D. Chapman. Smith said the floor design was approved with the exception that the factor of safety had been figured too close on the number of piling specified.

The City Council last night accepted the report of Smith, ordered all bids previously received rejected, and instructed Chapman to make the necessary changes in the plans, preparatory to re-opening for bids.

Chapman followed the Chicago code in preparing the floor plans of the building, but cut down on the number of piles in an effort to bring the cost of the structure within the $150,000 warehouse bond issue.

Chapman figured the reduced number of piles would be sufficient. Smith urged that there should be no cutting of the code's safety margin figures, stating that the stability of the structure might be endangered.

Churchmen Lose Battle Against Boxing Permits

MAYFIELD, March 3.—Members of the M. E. church here lost a battle before the town board last night when they sought the revocation of a permit issued by the trustees for a boxing exhibition planned for the night of the benefit of the "Young Men's Athletic Club." After listening to speakers on both sides the trustees put their O. K. on the show and decided to stand behind the club in their efforts to obtain five acres from Stanford university to be used as a public playground for the people of Mayfield. The committee named is constituted by Chairman Anton Anderson, the Rev. Father C. Lacombe, B. R. Holston, H. C. Baker and Joseph Kenyon.

PROMISES MADE VETERANS NOT KEPT, IS CLAIM

ALAMEDA, March 3.—The indifference of the American people toward the ex-service men is becoming appalling, according to Rev. W. L. Hink, prominent church leader, who was also this morning in the majority contest.

Clarence C. Gaudin, 2301 Fulton street, who has twice been a candidate for mayor, presented his nomination papers for a third time last night.

Two new school board candidates were added to the already long list of persons aspiring to these vacancies today. Grace Adams, 1411 Hawthorne terrace, Whitney's nomination papers were filed by Arthur D. Leslie, 2245 Virginia street. He makes the fifth contestant thus far in the contest. Whitney's nomination papers were filed by Arthur D. Leslie, 2245 Virginia street. He makes the fifth contestant thus far in the contest.

Many of the boys are down and out. The Government continues to neglect them. They are emphatic in saying that in event of war they will be ready to go. With the ex-service man it has always been "My country right or wrong, and I am sorry to say that my country has been wrong in many cases."

Modesto Paper in New Owners' Hands

MODESTO, March 3.—According to an announcement in that paper the Modesto Evening News has passed to the control of E. L. Sherman. The paper, which has been owned and operated by S. T. and O. R. Morgan and E. L. Sherman, with the Morgan interests in control, it is understood that several employees have small holdings of stock in the new concern.

The News, established in the early seventies, has always been strongly Democratic, but the new management states that hereafter the paper will be Republican, although the new owner, Sherman, has been active in the councils of the Democratic party for the past eight years. This change leaves Modesto without a Democratic paper.

THREE WOULD BE POSTMASTER-OF TOWN OF HAYWARD

J. C. Hammond and H. L. Bradford Active; Mrs. G. A. Oakes Enters Lists.

HAYWARD, March 3.—Already there are three active candidates in the field for the office of postmaster and it is whispered that the end of the list is not yet in sight.

Postmaster Hammond would succeed himself and has been making strong medicine among the politicians.

H. L. Bradford is put forward as the choice of the American Legion, and is active in the list.

Mrs. G. A. Oakes, of the Hayward Journal, is the latest candidate and the only woman that has shown above the political horizon.

The Board of Trustees at their meeting took action on the bill introduced by Assemblyman Christian to make the office of town marshal elective instead of appointive. Senator Carr had written a letter, asking for the board's opinion. The board, Trustees Brunner, Koolze and Perry strongly opposed the change and Trustee Simons was uncommittal, while Mayor Manter supported the change.

SAN JOSE, March 3.—A suit for $50,000 has been begun in the Superior court here before Judge J. R. Welsh by the Henry Cowell Lime and Cement company against the Building Trades Council of San Jose. The suit alleges that the Building Trades Council wages a boycott against the company several months ago and thereby caused them heavy loss. J. H. Heath, local manager of the firm, has taken the stand and testified that although the company had employed non-union men on their works, it was at a time when labor was scarce and that he had secured permission of the council's secretary to employ the men, owing to his inability to secure union men. THURSDAY, MARCH 3, 1921

A NEW DEAL AT HAND

This is the last full day of the Wilson administration. Tomorrow, shortly after the noon hour, Mr. Warren G. Harding will assume the duties of the Chief Executive. Tomorrow, therefore, is an important date in the nation's life.

The whole country will be more sensitive to the change in the national administration that it has ever been in any similar occasion since the inauguration of President McKinley to end the disastrous free-trade period of Cleveland's last administration.

As then, the country is today ready to turn away from the false trails and futile undertakings and vexatious entanglements of the last three years, and strive to be conscious of and attentive to the welfare of America. This is not to say that we shall become selfish and unmindful of our obligations to other peoples; for in restoring a sound condition at home we shall be able to render higher and more generous service abroad.

Due to Mr. Harding's admirable distaste for ostentation and his recognition of the seriousness of the problems and duties that face him, the inaugural ceremonies tomorrow will be conspicuously simple. They will constitute a scene of dedication and resolution, rather than of political triumph and exultation.

This is as America would have it. The hearts of the people will be with Mr. Harding tomorrow.

CHAMP CLARK

Hon. Champ Clark of Missouri, member of Congress, who died yesterday in Washington, two days before he would have completed his twenty-sixth year as a member of that body, was a type of American citizenship which the people of this country always have greatly admired. His conduct and example, both as a private citizen and as a public official, made his long career one of abundant usefulness.

As a statesman and public servant, Mr. Clark was distinctively a man who loved his country for what it had been, what it is and what it is capable of being. He was loyal to the best American ideals and traditions, and he wished them to be preserved. He believed they should be accepted as a safe guide for present-day public policies and acts. He believed unqualifiedly in the American people, and was always content to take its judgment on any issue as the final verdict. He believed the heart of America to be sound; he saw its eyes uplifted and its mind set on things for the betterment of humanity. Champ Clark was a great democrat, in his habits, his life, his inclination and his love for the American Republic as established by his fathers.

History will record him as distinguished for these traits, as opposed to that class of statesmen of which President Wilson is a striking example—the statesman who strives to be a crusader, chasing new notions, striking boldly and ruthlessly at cherished ideals and sustaining precedents, aiming to destroy proved virtue to make room for his own ambition. Champ Clark was not this sort of man. In his methods, his outlook and his conceptions of the obligations of a public official he was as different from it as light is from day.

It is a curious circumstance that Mr. Clark came nearer than any other man of being nominated for the Presidency and then failed, and that his failure was due to Woodrow Wilson, the man of the opposite type. Unquestionably Mr. Bryan often has thought with regret of that Baltimore convention of 1912, where he talked Mr. Clark out of the Presidency and Mr. Wilson into it.

Congress will miss Champ Clark as it has missed no other man. He was a scrupulously fair man. As speaker of the House and as floor leader of his party, courtesy, justice and square dealing was his code. In debate he was both interesting and charming, commanding undivided attention from his opening to his closing word. In reminiscences and telling apt anecdotes he had no equal. He was honest. When a principle was involved partisan considerations weighed nothing, as impressively illustrated in his opposition to the Wilson program in the fight for free tolls for American coastwise shipping passing through the Panama canal.

As citizen, statesman, teacher, husband, father and friend, Champ Clark was an example worthy of emulation in this or any other land. He was truly a great American. In his death the country has suffered a grievous loss.

CRIME MADE EASY.

Three masked bandits Tuesday night held up in Oakland the driver of a motor truck loaded with registered mail and got away with postal packages containing, according to uncertain estimates, from $20,000 to $80,000. The crime was marked by the familiar tactics of road agents. The driver was covered with guns and ordered under penalty of death to turn over the keys to the wire screened cage in which the mail was enclosed. The work of the bandits was probably made easier by the disconcerting and improper presence on the mail wagon of a young girl friend of the driver.

The impressive point about this crime is that its accomplishment was so easy. The postoffice department sent a van containing, to the knowledge of the local postal service officials, money and securities worth probably several hundred thousand dollars, from the postoffice to the railroad station. Yet it provided no protection against bandits for this valuable cargo. And this notwithstanding the series of mail robberies that have recently been committed throughout the country.

That the government transacts its business in this haphazard and dangerous manner is cause for public complaint. The postoffice has had frequent warnings of late that its carelessness would be heavily penalized. But it has failed to protect the postal business against criminals. The postoffice department is not alone to blame for this latest robbery. The local police department seems to have permitted this city to become so hospitable for highwaymen, burglars and criminals of all classes that nearly every day records a half dozen or so depredations.

SANITY MAY SAVE GERMANY.

It is not likely that the preparations which France and Belgium have made further to invade German territory in the event the German government refuses to agree to the payment of the reparations bill and to disarmament of her military forces will prove to have been necessary. All indications of the present, considered in connection with her past record, are that Germany is bluffing and walling and protesting inability in order to get more favorable terms than have been offered. She does not seem equal to frank, forthright dealing, but there is, presumably, some intelligence left to those charged with her government.

However, if the Berlin government now refuses to live up to the obligations undertaken at the signing of the Versailles treaty, especially the obligation to disband her armed forces, invasion and occupation of territory beyond the Rhine is properly contemplated and apparently is to be carried out promptly. The twenty-one months that have elapsed since the signing of the treaty have been adequate for Germany to decide upon the right course. She is alone to blame for this period having been employed in efforts to escape the treaty contract.

The point has been reached when it is no longer safe to permit Germany to evade and refuse fulfillment of her contract. In case of refusal to reach some sort of an agreement for the payment of just reparations, not only is it likely that the Ruhr and Essen districts will be occupied, but the Allied armies may march across Bavaria and establish contact with Czechoslovakia. This movement would ensure safety against any possible Bolshevik-German alliance, and at the same time serve to impress upon Germany that the penalty of her war crimes must be paid.

German propagandists are attempting to make it appear that France is anxious for the opportunity for further invasion. But France desires nothing so much as to avoid this responsibility if assurances can be had that the terms of the treaty will be carried out.

The Senate committee which investigated campaign expenditures in connection with the 1920 primary and general elections has made its report. It found that the election cost candidates and their supporters an aggregate of $10,338,500. The committee found no money spent for improper or illegal purposes and it made no recommendations for relief from these huge expenditures on account of national elections. It expressed the opinion, however, that they constituted a growing menace.

From the body of the report it is gathered that the pre-convention campaigns of candidates for the party nominations constitute a very large item of the total. For instance there was spent on the efforts to capture the nomination for President of General Leonard Wood $1,773,303; for Frank O. Lowden the total was $211,000; for Senator Johnson of California, $191,000; for Herbert Hoover, $173,000, and for President-elect Harding, $113,000. Expenditures noted in behalf of other Republican candidates were $77,000 for Senator Poindexter, Washington; $67,000 for Vice-President-elect Coolidge and $40,000 for Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, of New York. The direct primary is almost wholly responsible for these large pre-convention costs.

Business is singing an old song. Hark! "Buy, baby, buy."

NOTES and COMMENT

The seating of Representative Wickersham of Alaska, giving him two days to serve and enabling him to draw the term's pay of $14,000, or $7000 a day, is a curious instance of how some things work. The reinstatement will amount to nothing as, far as service is concerned, the man who is ousted having represented the territory and drawn the pay, which he will not be required to disgorge. Besides the constituency represented, being a territory, has only restricted representation. The vote, being somewhat close, 182 to 162, indicates that representatives differed in their allegiance to principle.

There may be those to enquire what we are coming to, when the President-elect bans brass bands and processions in his home town on the day that he takes his leave for the White House and his proud neighbors strive to do him honor. Time out of mind when we would hail the hero or honor the exalted we have blared forth our feelings with a band, and formed in line and marched past. Are all the immemorial customs going?

In addition to the local instance, a St. Louis despatch tells of four bandits holding up a postal messenger and taking mail matter valued at $5,000. The new Postmaster-General would seem to have his work cut out in several directions in heading off bandits. They have specialized on mails of late, and checking their propensities in this direction is worthy the efforts of the new administration.

Probably President-elect Harding is not superstitious and possibly he recklessly does things on Fridays, but there are likely to be those who keep mental tab, and if his administration fails to prosper, will remind the nation that nothing else could be expected, with the chief executive taking office on Friday—and everything.

In the account centering around the death of Nicholas of Montenegro interesting facts concerning this pugnacious country are recalled. It may not have been a matter of general knowledge that Nicholas succeeded his uncle, Danilo I, more than sixty years ago, and that he assumed the title of King only ten years ago, by the grace of the National Skupstina. Not every potentate is assisted into his kingship by a Skupstina.

A hint of colonial days is afforded in the story of the South Dakota woman who cornered and killed a gray wolf. Also a suggestion of the new scheme entered into the plan of those who preceded us and cleared the way for this later generation.

Senator Donah's filibuster against the naval appropriation marks what maybe the end of its importance as a national force. We see what Senatorial filibusters come to in the case of LaFollette. The country is never permanently impressed with a man whose congenial attitude is one of dissent.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS.

ANGORA

"A city founded by Midas of the touch of gold, overrun two centuries before Christ by far-wandering cousins of the Irishman of today; a great and wealthy community under Rome and Byzantium, and in spite of its checkered history and its past glory, known to recent generations in the West only because of a long-haired goat!"

"Such is Angora in central Asia Minor," says a bulletin issued by the National Geographic Society, "where Mustapha Kemal Pasha has set up 'the Angora Government' which he claims to be the real government of Turkey, and from where, supposedly, he is issuing defiant messages to the allies."

"The remote kinsmen of the Irish who figure in the history of Angora," continues the bulletin, "were 20,000 Celts from central Europe, who, unable to push into Greece, decided to try their luck across the Hellespont. After harrying the country for half a century they were forced to settle around Angora, then known as Ancyra. Their country became known as Galatia. There St. Paul is supposed to have founded a Christian church to the congregation of which he addressed his 'Epistle to the Galatians.' In the fourth century the Celtic language was still to be heard in Galatia, according to St. Jerome."

"The Celtic invaders were always in the minority and were finally absorbed, as the Norman conquerors of England were absorbed by the Saxons. Many observers profess to see the effects of Celtic blood in the people of Angora today, and describe them as lighter in complexion than the people of other parts of the Near East, and 'the most genial of the Mohammedans of Asia Minor.'"

"Ancyra dwindled to a village under Celtic rule, but following the annexation of Galatia to the Roman Empire in 25 B. C., and during the hundred years in which it was maintained as the Roman frontier province, the city took on great importance. One of the most famous of the ruins of Asia Minor is that of a beautiful marble temple in Angora dedicated to Rome and Augustus."

"During the Byzantine period Ancyra became even more important, its position between Constantinople and Mesopotamia, and Persia making it the metropolis of interior Asia Minor. The rising power of the Turks was indicated by the fall of Ancyra into their hands more than a hundred years before the fall of Constantinople. But Ancyra was captured shortly afterward by the Christian Crusaders during one of their farthest sorties inland and was held by them for eighteen years until 1360, when it again fell into Turkish hands."

A CITY OF MUD AND MARBLE. "Though marble reminders of its ancient glory are scattered about in the Angora of today, it is predominantly a dingy city of mud-brick houses and narrow streets. A mosque is built against one of the marble walls of the noble old Augustan temple. The walls and gates of the city are constructed of fragments of demolished Greek and Roman buildings, colonnades and other structures."

"The city is 220 miles southeast of Constantinople. It has a population of about 30,000, approximately a third of them Armenians who speak Turkish. It is perched on a rocky plateau to the north of which are fertile valleys and to the south of which stretch plains merging finally into a great desert. On these southern plains are pastured large herds of sheep, and goats with long silky hair which have made the name Angora familiar to Western ears. Large quantities of wool and mohair are exported."

"Cats, and to a less extent dogs and other animals in the neighborhood of Angora have unusually long silky hair. It is believed that the climate and perhaps the soil of the region are responsible for this peculiar development."

OPERA VS SHOES
It was over twelve years ago that Charles Marshall, nineteen years old left his home in Maine town to go to Italy for the study of music. His father and mother both frowned upon the venture, and plauded with him to stay at home, his father being particularly anxious that Charles should enter his factory and learn the boot and shoe business, which the elder Marshall characterized as "a sensible business where you can make a good living."

Last Saturday night Carlo Marzola appeared with the Chicago Grand Opera Company in New York, where his father and mother heard him sing for the first time since he was a member of the church choir "back home." Carlo (christened plain Charles) has for years been a success on the Italian stage, and now returns to America to sing for his fellow-countrymen. Incidentally, he makes as much in one night now as he would clear in six months in the shoe factory.

Had the young man obeyed his parents and stayed at home, by this time he would know a great deal about the shoe business, and would be "making a good living" in all probability. But the operatic stage would never have heard the liquid notes of Carlo Marzola, although the village choir would have been better off than it is today.

ADMINISTRATOR LOCKED OUT OF BROTHER'S OFFICE

Failure to Give Access to Deeds Renews Fight Over
McKinnon Estate.

Charges that George G. McKinnon, administrator of the estate of William H. McKinnon, militate water against the late owner's wishes, and that he has been locked out of the office of William H. McKinnon Jr., where a number of deeds to property owned by the deceased are kept, were made by Attorney W. H. L. Hynes before Superior Judge E. C. Robinson today.

The bond of W. H. McKinnon Jr. for $200,000 was filed with the court, thus enabling him to qualify jointly with his brother, George G., as administrator. This was expected to mark the end of hostilities between the brothers over their father's estate, but the dispute over the deeds and the charge of locking George G. McKinnon from his brother's office to prevent him from seeing these deeds indicated further rivalry in the conduct of the estate's affairs.

John S. DeLaney, attorney for W. H. McKinnon Jr., but who has been succeeded by Attorney Girard Richards, took the stand and admitted he had changed the locks in question so that George McKinnon's keys could not provide entrance, but said the place, which is at 2220 San Pablo avenue, is his own office and that he has a right to control entrance thereto. He admitted having the deeds, but said the property concerned had been given to the widow before her husband's death and was no part of the estate.

Judge Robinson continued the case one week to secure the attendance of W. H. McKinnon Jr., and hear his version of the matter.

The property in question, which is stated to be very valuable, consists of five pieces located at Ninth and Clay streets, San Pablo avenue, two on Adeline street and one on Market street.

Charge Rice Millers With Contract Breach

ORLAND, March 3.—Investigation of charges filed by rice growers against a number of millers that the latter broke their agreements to hold rice after milling until the owners ordered it sold, was begun today by the Yolo county grand jury.

According to the growers, the early sale of rice broke the market and brought about speculative prices of 12 1/2 cents in March and April at extremely low prices.

Fashions in England Held Up as Models

BERKELEY, March 3.—That American women should model after the women of England in the matter of fashions, is the opinion of Dr. Jessica Pleixoto of the University of California. The university professor of social economics has recently returned from an educational conference in London, and she declares that the English women know how to be neat, well groomed and attractive, without having so much time to the shift of fashion.

"American women," she says, "follow the changes so that they must change their wardrobes completely every three months. The French woman of education goes to the other extreme with such stern simplicity that she is seen everywhere wearing the antithesis of that type of Parisian which American women as a whole try to imitate."

Dr. Pleixoto was one of the five American women chosen to make the trip to London to attend a conference of the International Federation of University Women.

Immigration Bill Held Up by Wilson

WASHINGTON, March 3.—President Wilson still has the immigration restriction bill under advisement, but some White House officials said it was their guess "that he would pocket veto it."

It provided $1,000,000 for the establishment of fourteen regional offices of the bureau where soldiers can take their compensation and insurance claims for direct adjudication. The Senate passed the House resolution providing for the payment of $7500 to the widow of Champ Clark.

Following the hearing of testimony for nearly a day before superior Judge T. W. Harris yesterday in the suit of the United States Tire company against C. A. Muller for $8532 alleged to be due for tires sold to him, Donahue and Hynes, attorneys for the plaintiff, announced in court today that an agreement had been reached out of court and the suit would be dismissed. 'MANLESS' DANCE IS FEATURED BY COLLEGE GIRLS

BERKELEY, March 3.—While college men are advertising in university journals and using other means to find dancing partners, college girls are showing they can get along without them.

A "manless" dance was staged this afternoon at the University of W. C. A. as the feature of an "open house" of junior women. Three hundred girls took part.

Male students admit their helplessness. So desperate are some of them for dancing partners that "want ads" have been inserted in the college newspaper.

Here is a sample of one of the appeals:

"Wanted—Young lady partner for Junior Prom. Must be a good dancer and fair to look upon. Address communications to Box 828."

Still another male student asks for dancing partners from a college girl in exchange for a specified number of lessons in tennis. Others sign their appeals "lonesome" and beg that some girl have pity on them.

Some of the appeals were for a dance today. Among those participating were Miss Virginia Treadwell, Miss Rhea Boynton, Miss Ruth Phillips, Miss Eleanor Beck and Miss Dorothy Henderson.

100,000 ring-necked pheasant eggs will be distributed free by the New York State game farms this spring.

A program interpreted the dance today. The enrollment in the first grade of the Lincoln school has been so heavy that it was necessary to organize a new class. The high school enrollment was reported by Dr. George C. Thompson as 1050.

STORY OF WINE PARTY LOSES KEITH HIS WIFE

Grandson of Famous Artist Is Accused of Cruelty in Divorce Suit.

The story of a wine party indulged in by William C. Keith, grandson of William Keith, famous California painter, following which women's powder puffs, hair pins and hair combs were found on the dresser of the apartment, won a divorce for Mrs. Alice Keith, which was granted by Judge Dudley Kingsland today.

The couple lived together "only one month and 14 days, having married December 6 last and separated January 20."

Mrs. Keith charged that while she was visiting her mother in Alameda her husband and another man, accompanied by two girls, staged the wine party at their apartment, 1515 Oak street. She said the girls did not leave until 10:30 o'clock the next morning and that afterward, in addition to the hair ornaments and combs, empty wine bottles, wine glasses and cigarette "butts" were found strewn around. The hair combs, she said, were on the dresser.

Carl S. Newkirk, occupant of an apartment next to that of the Keiths, corroborated her testimony as to the carousal.

Mrs. Keith also charged that her husband once threw her across the room and onto a bed at the Oak street apartment, struck her when they were living at the St. Mark's hotel, failed to appear after accepting an invitation to a Christmas dinner and otherwise mistreated her.

Keith did not contest the suit but his attorneys, Donahue and Hynes, announced that the matter of alimony had been settled out of court. Mrs. Keith asked for $100 a month in her complaint.

Mrs. Alice Malt, daughter of E. D. Malt, 1817 Broadway, Alameda, will resume her maiden name, Keith has been employed in a local clothing store.

HOUSE ARRANGES
FUNERAL SERVICE
FOR CHAMP CLARK

Body of Former Speaker Will Lie in State in Rotunda of Capitol.

WASHINGTON, March 2. — The House of Representatives had completed arrangements today for funeral services in the House chamber Saturday morning for Chanler Clark. The services, which will be held at 10:30 o'clock, will be a tribute of respect such as has been paid only a few times in the history of the American Congress.

The body of the former speaker will lie in state in the Capital rotunda before the services.

Both houses of Congress voted to appoint committees to attend the funeral as representatives of the respective bodies. Tonight the House will devote an hour to eulogy to the former speaker.

U. S. SAYS OIL LEASE HOLDERS TO WORK CLAIMS

Unless "Diligent Prosecution" Is Shown Wells Will Revert to the Navy.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. WASHINGTON, March 3.—Gas and oil wells held under placer locations on California and Wyoming naval reserve lands, revert to the navy unless "diligent prosecution" of claims, or production is shown, the secretary of the interior decided today.

The leasing law enacted last year provides that leases be granted to present occupants whose wells on naval reserve lands were producing on that date. It therefore devolved upon the secretary of interior to decide what was a producing well, as a number of wells had been suspended or abandoned.

The secretary declined to make a general definition, but in the first decision reached which was in the case of wells controlled by the Associated Oil Co., he granted leases where there was an indication of "diligent prosecution" of work and denied leases on the rest.

DECOTO WILL ASK
INDICTMENTS FOR MEN AND WOMENGrand Jury Will Hear Inside
Details of Alleged Gang
Make-Up.

Secret indictments against two known but uncaptured members of the Alvarado bank robber gang and against four other alleged criminals whose names are not being revealed, will be asked of the Alameda county grand jury when it meets tomorrow morning, according to District Attorney Ezra Decoto.

Decoto refused to reveal the names of any of the half dozen men and women whom the grand jury will be asked to indict but admitted that none of them are in custody.

It is stated on good authority that the grand jury will probe the activities of a band of men and women whose identity has been revealed by "Cocky" Kirk and at least one other "Thirty Strong" gangster.

Confessions obtained from members of the "Thirty Strong" who have not only "snatched" on their pals but have disclosed the activities of other cliques of rogues, have furnished the district attorney with the names of highway robbers and thieves and it is to consider the indictment of these men that the grand jury will meet.

Whether the indictments involve anyone connected with the recent $40,000 postoffice robbery, would not be asked by Decoto.

Husband Says He Was Cutlery Target

When his wife kept telling him that she "hoped he would come home on a stretcher," and emphasized her words by pouring condensed milk on his head and throwing knives, forks, spoons and plates at him during breakfast, John E. Bargren finally reached the conclusion that he was not wanted by Mrs. Anna A. Bargren and so filed a suit for divorce, he declares in his affidavit.

Bargren also alleges that his wife received loving missives from strange men and that when he protested she laid down such a barrage of cutlery that he was forced to take to cover. The marriage was contracted in 1907 and separated last January 10. Bargren asks the custody of 12-year-old Irene.

Convention Divides When Subject of Metal Hives Is Brought Up; Attendance Is Large

Methods of co-operation for the elimination of bee diseases and to bring about a higher standard in the bee industry of the State were the principal topics of speakers at today's first session of the thirty-second annual convention of the California State Beekeepers' Association at the auditorium.

More than 250 delegates and visitors were in attendance at the convention today. This afternoon the visitors went for an automobile tour of the Eastbay district, covering especially the East Oakland, Castro Valley and Eden township districts where the bee industry of the county is located. The part of the trip through Eden Township was taken under the joint auspices of the Hayward Chamber of Commerce and the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

Principal speakers at the opening session of Ventura and Winfield Gear of Ventura, who was secretary of the State association.

One faction contended that the metal hives were colder than the surrounding atmosphere, hence the work of the bees was hampered. Others contended that this defect could be overcome by waxing the hives and that when this was done the metal hives were far superior to the wooden ones.

Gear spoke on the need of co-operation in the various bee raising communities for the elimination of bee diseases, especially foul brood.
